Dear Ms. [REDACTED]

A few weeks ago, I wrote to ask for your support for Doctors Without Borders/Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF), an international independent medical humanitarian organization that delivers emergency aid to people affected by armed conflict, epidemics, and natural and man-made disasters.

Doctors Without Borders teams are making a critical difference to people whose lives have been torn apart by events beyond their control. Immediately after a catastrophe, we're ready to send our staff in to help. To do this requires money. Please send a gift by October 26 to help us be ready to react immediately to the next emergency. You can also donate at www.doctorswithoutborders.org/donate to put your gift to work even faster.

Every day, from Haiti to Somalia, we're able to save lives because of the generosity of people like you. If you haven't had a chance yet, please help us with a gift today. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Sophie Delaunay
Executive Director
