Dear Name,

In less than two years, voters will decide the fate of the nation by selecting the next president.

Will you help make sure young voices are part of that decision?

Last year, friends like you helped us sue the Secretary of State of Florida for discriminating against college student voters. He had banned all college and university buildings in the state from serving as early polling sites. Supporters like you helped us revoke this ban. As a result, 60,000 Florida voters used 12 new on-campus polling sites during the 2018 Midterm Elections.

But that's not all.

Your last gift provided training to young leaders like Megan Newsome, a Vote Everywhere Ambassador who graduated in 2017. As an Ambassador, Megan wrote the op-ed that launched our lawsuit in Florida. She served as a co-plaintiff by our side.

You made this possible.

Megan is one of more than 200 Vote Everywhere Ambassadors and alumni across the country who want to be heard. But they need your support.

Despite the success of her efforts, Megan knows her work isn't through. Now, as one of our Puffin Democracy Fellows, she continues the fight to expand voting rights and engagement for her peers.

TURN OVER

The University of Florida
Vote Everywhere team leads a march to the polls
during the 2018 Midterm Elections.

Megan knows that every day, young people face barriers to voting. These include voter I.D. laws and a complicated process for absentee ballots. She wonders if those 60,000 people in Florida would have had the chance to vote without friends like you.

That's why Megan became a Defender of Democracy by pledging a monthly gift.

Will you join her by giving $25 a month?

Your pledge today helps a young person, just like Megan, become a powerful force in democracy.

Thank you.

Warmest regards,

David Goodman
