

THE STICKLEY MUSEUM AT CRAFTSMAN FARMS

Grounds Map

A National Landmark and Official
Project of Save America's Treasures

Welcome to the Stickley Museum at Craftsman Farms! This 30-acre National Historic Landmark is the centerpiece of Gustav Stickley's early 20th century country estate. The Stickley family's home, known as the Log House, was built in 1911 and is one of the most significant landmarks of the American Arts and Crafts movement. It has been restored to its 1911 appearance and is operated by the Craftsman Farms Foundation as a historic house museum.

Dear Ms. Grow:

Did you know that Craftsman Farms, this National Historic Landmark property, is home to nine buildings? The centerpiece, and most well-known is, of course, the Log House, Gustav Stickley's beloved home. But the other buildings are also important, and we have a plan for each of them.

As a monthly donor, your support helps us to interpret and educate our visitors about these buildings. Each building or structure reveals a unique story about the history of this property. Together, they provide a window into what life was like here in the early 1900s.

I thought you would enjoy seeing the enclosed grounds map which provides an overview of the buildings and their place on the property. I have also enclosed a copy of our Architecture Scavenger Hunt for children so that you can see one of the projects your monthly giving supports.

Thank you for continuing to be a Stickley Sustainer. Your monthly support has an impact!

Sincerely,

Vonda K. Givens
