Re: Union Pacific grant to Portland Children's Museum

Dear Mr. Moore:

When the Union Pacific Foundation's Board approved its recent grant to Portland Children's Museum, it did so much more than make a $10,000 investment in our organization. With this funding, Union Pacific Foundation chose to invest in the youngest citizens of our community--specifically, in opportunities for young minds to grow, create, be challenged, problem solve, and strengthen critical thinking skills. You are enabling young children to fall in love with the most important questions they can ask themselves: "Why?" "I wonder...?" and "What will happen if I...?"

On behalf of those children, and all of us at Portland Children's Museum, thank you and the Union Pacific Foundation for granting $10,000 to support the Museum's three permanent studios—Art Studio, Clay Studio, and Maker Studio. This grant will be pivotal in supporting programs that help children learn through play.

We look forward to hearing from a representative from Union Pacific by May 1 to arrange for presentation of this generous check. We also look forward to keeping you apprised on our progress throughout the year—progress that you made happen. Thank you and the Union Pacific Foundation Board, again, for your generous support. Please contact our Grants Manager Timothy V. Delaney at 503.471.9908 or tdelaney@portlandcm.org if you have any questions or require additional information.

Sincerely,

Ruth G. Shelly
